

Press Release: Modplan product offer
20th October, 2016

Modplan's offering reflects what today's installer needs

These days, having a small portfolio of products is no longer enough. End users know how glazing products can transform a space and they want a wide range to choose from. If your portfolio doesn't feature what they want, they'll have no hesitation in going elsewhere. Heidi Sachs, Managing Director of leading VEKA trade fabricator Modplan, comments: "Our customers tell us they need to have a range of standard and value-added products at their fingertips. Our policy of manufacturing a diverse and comprehensive range of products means our customers can have all the solutions they need without having to go to multiple suppliers, something that saves them a great deal of time and effort."

All of Modplan's products are carefully selected to offer industry-leading advantages. The range includes our Matrix 58 window and door system, Veka's Matrix 70 window and door system and Matrix FS window and door system, VEKA vertical sliders, VEKA Imagine patio and bifolding doors and the Warmcore bi-folding door. There is a range of conservatories, a veranda conservatory, an open canopy, the Ultrasky skylight and a contemporary take on traditional orangeries in the form of LivinRoom and Loggia. The LEKA Warm Roof and the Vertex conservatory roof systems as well as the highly configurable Wendland roofing system make up the conservatory roofing option.

All products are manufactured in Modplan's Abercarn headquarters near Newport to guarantee the quality, turnaround times and give complete reliability. There is even an in-house paint plant so all products can be supplied in any RAL colour on competitive turnaround.

Modplan's product range is complemented with exceptional support including a comprehensive marketing support package, an in-house training facility and proactive customer service that adds real value.

If this sounds like the package you'd like to receive from your fabrication partner, make an appointment to visit Modplan's Customer Centre and find out more about the Modplan Way.
